The U. F. A. Convention

The big U. F. A. Convention which is being held in Calgary this week is very largely attended, some 2,400 delegates and their friends taking in the Convention.

Secretary Woodbridge in his reports states that the largest increase in membership took place in 1917 over any other year since the organization of the U. F. A. In 1909, the first year, there was only a membership of 2,117, the membership for 1917 was 16,493. The increase over 1916 was 3,192. He also reported that there was a surplus of $2,755.77 over liabilities. There were 100 new locals organized during the last year.

The report is altogether too long for us to publish in full, but the above facts are the main points in his report.

Meeting Arranges For Hockey and Skating

A meeting was held on January 15th to arrange for the opening of the skating rink, G. E. Sexsmith in the chair. The meeting was composed of the young men of the town who have taken over the management of the rink for this season.

It was decided that Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights should be left open for general skating, and Tuesday, Thursday and one hour before general skating on Saturday nights should be open for hockey. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. will be left open for children's skating, free.

The price for season tickets was set as follows: Men $2.50, ladies $2.00, children under 15 years $1.50; hockey players are to be assessed $3.00 for a season ticket.

Vear Wood was appointed manager at a salary of $60.00 per month for one month.

The following were appointed a Finance Committee: Dr. Duncan, N. Cook, J. A. Macdonald.

Season tickets may be obtained from Mr. Capron at the Royal Bank or from the manager of the rink, Mr. Vear Wood.

Should Make a Change

At the meeting of skating enthusiasts last week it was decided that children should be given the use of the rink on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5. It looks as though the kiddies had one put over them as it is impossible for them to get more than half an hour's skating twice a week. It must be remembered that they are in school from 1.30 to 4 o'clock, and it will take nearly half an hour for them to get to the rink and get their skates on. Since the town supplies free light and rebates the taxes on the rink for the purpose of giving free skating to the children surely some different arrangement than this can be made. Why not give them Saturday afternoons?

Oddfellows Entertain Rebekahs

The Oddfellows entertained the Rebekah Lodge on Friday evening last in their lodge rooms. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing and a good programme of songs, choruses, readings and recitations. After the close of the programme a fine lunch was served, which was also much enjoyed by those present. The ladies say that the men certainly excelled themselves with the evening's entertainment.

AROUND THE TOWN

Miss Ara Weber, of the Western Mutual Fire insurance Co., was a visitor at Calgary over the weekend.

Mrs. E. G. Reitzel and Mrs. A. W. Axtell will have charge of the Red Cross lunch on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Hawkes, of Calgary, President of the Rebekah Assembly, paid an official visit to the local lodge on January the 9th.

Williams & Little report a very big increase of sales so far for the month of January over other years. Their big clearance sale no doubt accounts for this.

Mr. Chas. Finlay will conduct service at M. H. Brown's, Westerdale, on Sunday, Jan. 27th, at 3.30 p.m.; Sunday school at 2.30 p.m. Come and hear about God's remedy for sin.

Some of the old timers will remember Lorne Proudfoot who taught school in this district in the earlier years. He was married to Miss Mary Roberts at Chinook on December 11th, 1917.

The Presbyterian Red Cross sewing circle will meet at the home of Mrs. H. W. Chambers on Wednesday afternoon, January 30th, at 2.30 p.m. All ladies are cordially invited to come and sew.

Postmaster Hunsperger has had to buy an alarm clock for the post office. The morning train which goes north at 2.30 now carries mail and he has had to make arrangements for somebody to go and get the mail.

Rev. D. H. Marshall will preach his farewell sermon as pastor of the Didsbury Presbyterian church on Sunday evening next. He will take over his new work at the Hillhurst Presbyterian church, Calgary, at the beginning of next month.

A Recital will be given by Miss Kate McKrill's music pupils on Friday, February 1st, at the Opera House, beginning at 8 o'clock, the proceeds of which will go towards the Red Cross fund. Adults 25c, children 15c. Dance to follow.

After waiting for hours at the Military medical offices at Calgary and going from one office to another in his zeal to join up and do his bit, Mr. Cecil Studer was finally turned down because he was under age. Cecil has now taken a school near High River and will teach until he reaches the proper age.

Frank Murdoch lost one of his cows on Monday through a collision with the northbound passenger train which struck it head on. The cow, unfortunately, suffered death in her zeal to stop the train. Five or six pigs belonging to Mr. Fleming also met the same fate not long ago. The trouble seems to be snowdrifts up against the fences allowing the stock to walk over on to the tracks.

The Women's Institute will give a box social and musical programme, recitations and Highland fling by four little girls, vocal and piano solos, in the Opera House on Friday, January 25th, at 8 p.m. sharp. Free coffee will be supplied and the ladies are requested to please bring lunch boxes. Proceeds to be divided between Red Cross and Ogden Convalescent Home.

Jim Ruby says that he has got to do something to keep his mind busy, so he has bought out the Shantz Bros. dray business, which he will take over the first of next month.

Wedding

COFFEY—OSMOND

A quiet but interesting wedding ceremony took place on Thursday last, January 17th, 1918, when Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Osmond, of Didsbury, was united in marriage to L. C. Coffey, of Calgary, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. D. H. Marshall officiating; only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present. The bride was dressed in a very nice white silk dress and carried a splendid bouquet of roses and carnations. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold wrist watch. After the wedding dinner was served and the happy couple left on the evening's train for a two weeks honeymoon at Vancouver and Victoria, and on their return will make their home in Calgary, where Mr. Coffey has a position on the staff of the Military Schools for returned veterans.

A Slick Game

A smooth trick was put up on the Union Bank branches at Airdrie, Crossfield, Carstairs, Didsbury, Bowden and Innisfail by two men who posed as cattle buyer and seller in November last when they forged credit slips on each of the above branches for $900 each, getting away with $800 from each branch. The slips were purported to be signed by the manager of the Union bank at East End, Saskatchewan. One man by the name of Munro is being tried for the offence, but the other has not been caught yet. Mr. T. W. Cuncannon, Manager, and Mr. W. Keeley, teller, of the local branch, appeared as witnesses at the preliminary hearing at Calgary on Friday and Saturday last. The case has been remanded to the Supreme Court.

Carson Resigns

Cables stated on Tuesday that Sir Edward Carson, minister without portfolio in the British War cabinet has resigned. His resignation was due to the Irish question and had nothing to do with the war.

Unhappy Belgium

Germany's disregard for every consideration of honor and humanity is seen once more in the statement from The Hague that she has decided to appropriate for her own use half the Belgian yield of potatoes, fruits and vegetables, while the other half is to be used in part "for extra rations to workmen who are engaged in work for Germany." Was an industrious and peace-loving people ever compelled to bear a more grievous yoke than the one imposed upon King Albert's afflicted nation? —Providence Journal

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

The Earl of Perth, who is a prisoner at Ruhleben, has received from his fellow prisoners there the title of the Pearl of the Earth. The title needs no explanation; the little it does need is apparently supplied by the fact that Lord Perth, who is forty-six years old, recently competed in some soldiers' races, and made the most gallant efforts to beat men of half his age.

"There's a great deal to be said on both sides," he asserted. "Oh, I suppose so," she replied wearily; "but what's to be said on the other side doesn't interest me."

Girls Were Carried Away

The German government, in an official communiqué, admits that young girls of Alsace have been carried away from their homes. "Only eight and a half per cent" of the girls are under 17 years of age, the official statement declares. With these crimes still being perpetrated and by an absolute autocracy that threatens to visit the same inhumanities upon our own young women, we engage in calm discussion of insidious partisan squabbles.—From the London Free Press

It Must Be a Knockout

Germany has got to be defeated in this war. It is not enough that she is now willing to quit on the basis of getting out of Belgium and Northern France, leaving those regions desolate. If the war ended as matters now stand it would be found that Germany has made vaster conquests than those, for she has subjugated her allies, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, and with control of a population of 150,000,000 people would proceed to fit out on a greater scale than ever for a war of conquest.—Toronto Star.

Convicted of Murder

Farmer Living Near Medicine Hat to Pay Penalty for Crime

After one of the most sensational as well as one of the longest criminal trials ever conducted in a Canadian court, Adam Neigel, a farmer living near Medicine Hat was convicted of the murder of his wife Clara Neigel by poisoning and he was sentenced by Mr. Justice Hyndman to be hanged on March 22.

The evidence against Neigel was wholly circumstantial, there being no direct proof that he had any poison or that he administered it to his wife. The circumstances proven in evidence showed that he must have given her the strichine in a glass of whiskey which Neigel admitted giving her. Witnesses who saw her die described symptoms that corresponded almost identically with those of strichine poisoning. Other witnesses swore that Neigel told them he had poisoned his wife and the chemical analysis of the stomach showed the presence of strichine. Coupled with these facts was the evidence of witnesses that Neigel had been having illicit relations with another woman, who it happened was one of the witnesses who saw Clara Neigel die. The defense held that she swore as she did against Neigel to get revenge on him for telling her husband of the relations that had existed between them.

The jury did not believe the story of conspiracy and found that the circumstances proved that Neigel was guilty.

German Atrocities

A Young American Who Tells What He Saw

An American college student who served in the ambulance corps for four months at the western front relates the following in the Yale Literary Magazine:

"The morning following this, the section went into C——, which village had been abandoned that night by the Boches. As we drove through the shattered town and past the Hotel de Ville a sight greeted our eyes which was worse than anything we had yet encountered. Stretches out on a number of planks that had been torn from the wall of a nearby house were three French poilus. Two long bayonets used as spikes pierced each man through the shoulders, while the hands and feet of each had been severed, interchanged, and tied in place. Underneath the poor fellows the Boches had scrawled in black charcoal on a white board, 'Stare and wonder.' We made photographs of the monstrous atrocity, threw the bodies in a corner to await burial, and proceeded to our task."

Study the Inside Nerves

WITH the brain as its centre, the nervous system reaches out to every organ of the human body. From the spinal column and from the various nerve centres the thread-like nerve fibres find their way to every nook and corner of the body, controlling all movements and action, and making a living being of the mass of flesh and bone.

Without the nerve force which is manufactured in the brain there could be no beating of the heart, no breathing of the lungs, no digestion, no activity, no life.

It is only when you think of the nervous system in this way that you begin to realize its true importance and to appreciate the far-reaching effects of any derangement of the nerves. Any break in this connection with the brain, or any pressure on the nerve fibres to interfere with the transmission of nervous energy, means helplessness or paralysis of the part affected. It may be the loss of power to use the hand or failure of the stomach to do the work for which it was intended.

If there is ever a time when sympathy is needed it is when the nerves give way. But you must have more than sympathy if you are to recover your nervous energy. The feeble, exhausted nerve cells must be nourished back to health by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This treatment is so gentle and natural in action that it admirably suits the delicate condition of the exhausted nervous system, and at the same time is wonderfully potent in restoring vigor and strength.

WE NEED REGULATING.

When we hear of people here and there buying up hundreds of dollars worth of white flour and hogging other commodities and making some excuse for doing so, or being so callous to other people's sufferings that they make no excuse, we begin to think that it is time for the authorities to put us on rations or make it a criminal offence for any person to purchase more than their usual needs. While man is oftentimes a selfish animal we believe that now in this time of world agony there is more of the Christlike spirit of love and sorrow for other people's sufferings than ever before in the world's history. But, unfortunately, we still have with us a small number of greedy, selfish humans whose only thought is my wants and luxuries come first, never mind the poor beggar whose life hangs by a thread because of the want of a few pounds of foodstuffs. A few months ago we were all calling the profiteers by every mean name that could be thought of, but it seems to us that people who try to buy up all the foodstuffs for their own selfish pleasure when there is so much need for a just distribution are deserving of just as much condemnation.

Do you know that one of the chief reasons why there are so many laws being made to restrict the use of certain foodstuffs in a bountiful country like Canada is because a percentage of the people will not consider the other fellow, consequently we are all being regulated.

A SERIOUS SITUATION

The food situation in the Allied countries of western Europe is graver

than it has been at any time since the beginning of the war. Information has been received by the Food Controller which shows that the utmost effort must be made to increase spring acreage and to secure a much larger production of bread grains in 1918 than was done in 1917. Mr. Hoover has already pointed out that if ships have to be sent to more distant countries to carry food stuff to Europe, fewer (Continued on last page)

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Finding Enemy U-Boats

Locating Device Improved After 40,000 Suggestions

Important progress has been made in the problem of locating submarines, after which their destruction is a comparatively simple matter. Secretary Daniels said, in a statement at Washington, discussing the 40,000 separate suggestions, plans or models of devices submitted to the naval consulting board since the United States entered the war against Germany.

"The idea that the submarine will be overcome by a miraculous invention is not now seriously considered," the secretary said. "The more intimate knowledge the civilian obtains on this subject, the more convinced he is that the submarine can be caught by persistent hunting down by the weapon of which he is most afraid. This is the armed service boat, equipped with all the latest scientific devices and typified in the modern torpedo boat destroyers. Foreign naval authorities have frankly stated their admiration of the degree of perfection of American designs."

Chances of War

"Twenty-nine Chances to One Your Boy Returns"

Well-informed military men say that if your boy goes to the front: He has twenty-nine chances of coming home to one chance of being killed.

He has ninety-eight chances of recovering from a wound to two chances of dying.

He has only one chance in 500 of losing a limb.

He will live five years longer because of physical training.

He is free from disease in the army than in civil life.

He has better medical care at the front than at home.

In other wars from ten to fifteen men died from disease to one from bullets.

In this war one man dies from disease to every ten from bullets.

This war is less wasteful of life than any other in history.

Only 10 per cent. of all Canadians disabled for further service have been physically unable to engage in their former occupations.

If your boy is one of the 10 per cent. the government will re-educate him in another vocation at which he can earn a living.

The Overseas Tongue

Accents of Overseas Soldiers a Source of Mystery to London Scribe

One of my correspondents is puzzled by the accents of our soldiers from overseas. Many of the Australians and New Zealanders, he points out, talk the most flagrant Cockney, though they never had been in Britain before the war; and the name of the Canadians with a well-defined Scottish lilt and burr is legion. In all these cases, he suggests, the accent and idiom are acquired from emigrated parents who take a pride not only in retaining but in emphasizing the dialect of their native lands. Not a few of the Canadian soldiers have even a working knowledge of Scottish Gaelic. But how in each of these cases, do local or racial peculiarities manage to survive when, we know, even a provincial "burr" gradually disappears when its owner brings it to London?—Westminster Gazette.

ANY CORN LIFTS OUT, DOESN'T HURT A BIT

No foolishness! Lift your corns and calluses off with fingers —It's like magic!

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn, can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you apply upon the corn a few drops of freezezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

For little cost one can get a small bottle of freezezone at any drug store, which will positively rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain.

This simple drug dries the moment it is applied and does not even irritate the surrounding skin while applying it or afterwards.

This announcement will interest many of our readers. If your druggist hasn't any freezezone tell him to surely get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.

C.P.R. Eastern Excursions During December Will Be Popular

Daily during December Special Round Trip Excursion Rates will be in effect to practically all points in Eastern Canada. On certain dates during December, January and February low round trip fares to Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster will also be effective. The two trans-continental trains every day both east and west over the Canadian Pacific Railway, (which has become known as "The World's Greatest Highway") are Canada's finest and afford travelling without the annoyance of transfer and with no thought regarding checked baggage until arrival at destination. Those contemplating travelling are advised to make arrangements early. Reports from the officers of the C.P.R. indicate an extra heavy excursion travel this year.

Request full information from any agent of the company who will make arrangements and secure your reservation.

The Sunday morning sermon of Rev. L. B. Longacre, Congregational minister, at Denver, Colo., is now accompanied by the merry clicking of a hundred pairs of knitting needles. Women of his congregation, unwilling to leave off their knitting of sleeveless sweaters and other comforts for the Sammies, petitioned the pastor for permission to knit during the service. He not only agreed, but assisted them to recruit members for the Sunday morning knitting class.

Germany Aims to Dominate Industry

What Must Inevitably Result From German Military Success

A point which has been too little dwelt upon in the discussions of the war was brought out strongly by the president—that this is not merely a war for political power, but a struggle between opposing industrial systems and ambitions. It was not alone for the purpose of dominating the politics of the world that Germany dealt this blow; it was even more for the purpose of dominating and controlling the industry of the world—of making the industry of all other nations subject to that of Germany, dependent on conditions prevailing in Germany, of compelling all other industry to pay tribute to Germany. This was the great economic purpose to be achieved by political world-domination. It was the German idea of an economic place in the sun. It was the stake by the winning of which the war might be made economically worth (to Germany) even its enormous cost. It is what must inevitably result from German military success.—From the Buffalo Express.

As to Internal Foes

Nine-tenths of wisdom is being wise in time. We were not wise in time. Let us learn from our past folly future wisdom. Our first duty is to win this war, and therefore the shadowy Hun within our gates is one worst internal foe. Our next and equally important duty is to prepare against disaster in the future, and therefore our next worst internal foe is the sheep-like creature who invites national disaster for the future by bating against the telling of the truth in the present.—T. A Contrast in Methods

Letting the People at Home Know About Enemy Atrocities

We are ever at pains to enlighten the neutral world on our own war objects, our own war ideals, and our own war methods, and on Germany's shortcomings and breaches of the rules of war. This we tell abroad with commendable vigor, eloquence, and knowledge. But here, at home, where the hearts of the mourners of those horribly butchered people are cast down by sorrow, here we tell nothing. Propaganda at home is as necessary, ay, more necessary than it is abroad. How much flabby peace talk would there be if our government were to tell us how these thousands of victims were sent to their deaths without a chance of escaping, their life-boats fired upon, and they themselves, perhaps, fired on as they swam despairingly in the icy waters? Peace talk? The best propaganda, the most eloquent appeal to the people of these islands to harden their hearts, to make sure that "Never Again" must be the motto, to fight to the very bitter end until there is no more chance of a German military revival—the best appeal, we say, is to tell the people how their friends, their brothers, their sisters, and their children have been murdered at sea—London Daily Express.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

An Industrial Hero

The Medal of the Order of the British Empire has been conferred on Thomas Harper, an industrial hero. At the age of seventy-two he had retired and gone to live in Australia. When the war broke out, he returned to England and went to work in a munitions factory. For two years he has, it is stated, "actually done the work of two men."

Once he fainted at his task, but resolutely refused to give up, saying he would never rest while his countrymen at the front needed shells.

Do It Now. Disorders of the digestive apparatus should be dealt with at once before complications arise that may be difficult to cope with. The surest remedy to this end and one that is within reach of all, is Parinee's Vegetable Pills, the best laxative and sedative on the market. Do not delay, but try them now. One trial will convince anyone that they are the best stomach regulator that can be got.

Setting a Good Example

What the C.P.R. Is Doing in Direction of Food Conservation

Nothing that the C.P.R. has done in the direction of food conservation has resulted in so many letters of commendation as the footnotes printed on all menu cards on C.P.R. dining cars and hotels. This reads: "In the interest of food conservation, young lambs, little chickens, little pigs, and their by-products are not used in the C.P.R. service."

The editor of a prominent mining journal says in a leading article:

"It must have required some grit, as well as a full sense of duty for an institution which includes such hotels and restaurants as are found on that railway, to put such a memorandum before their high-class patrons. But it has been done and its moral effect has been wider than the actual wastage that has been saved. Those who have read the notice have, in some cases at all events, followed the good example of the railway, and have given up purchasing any of the immature animal food."

"If the food controller could prohibit the sale or use of these young animals it would be another means of food economy."

Escaping From the Turks

Three British Officers Had an Interesting Experience

An entertaining story of the experiences of three British officers who escaped from the Turks is told by a relative of one of the trio in a letter to a staff officer at Ottawa.

Eluding their guards the three officers made their way across the desert. Their first adventure came the day following their escape when they suddenly came upon thirteen Turkish soldiers. The officers resigned themselves to recapture but were astonished and delighted to discover after some parley that the soldiers were deserters fleeing from the hardships of the Turkish army to some unknown destination. The two parties thereupon joined forces, and were proceeding amicably on their way when a Turkish patrol appeared. There was no doubt of the hostile intentions of this body. A sharp fight ensued, resulting in the capture of eleven of the patrol. With these prisoners in their hands the British officers and the Turkish deserters marched forward, ultimately landing in a Russian camp, where the British officers received an enthusiastic welcome.

"Boys," said a teacher to her Sunday school class, "can any of you quote a verse from the Scripture to prove that it is wrong to have two wives?"

ships will be available to carry soldiers and supplies from this continent, with the result that continued participation of the United States and Canada in the war will be greatly hampered.

The situation has been thoroughly canvassed, and among those who have studied it there is unanimous agreement that the only solution of the food problem is greater production in North America. In this connection it is especially important that the spring acreage sown in bread grains should be as large as it can possibly be made.

Every person who can possibly produce food must do so, no matter how small his or her contribution may be. Those who cannot produce food can at least conserve it. The utmost economy is imperative. The situation to-day is critical and the world is rapidly approaching that condition when price will not be the most important question, but when even the people of Canada may be glad to eat any food which they can obtain.

The successful prosecution of the war by the Allies will depend to a very large extent upon the extent of food production and food conservation this year by the people of North America.

Baron Rhondda, in a recent message, says: "The food position in this country, and I understand in France also, can without exaggeration be described as critical and anxious. I am now unable to avoid compulsory regulation. I fear it will have to come with long queues of people awaiting in the severe weather in practically every town in England for the daily necessities of life."

Business Was Suspended For Five Days

The U. S. fuel controller, with the sanction of the President, shut down all manufacturing plants east of the Mississippi for five days last week because of the bad conditions of transportation of coal and other commodities, ships being held up at the ports because they could not get coal, consequently the railroads became so congested that the public was suffering. For the next ten weeks no factory will operate on Mondays so that congestion may be overcome.

This action was not taken without a great deal of opposition, the U. S. Senate trying to block the order.

Fuel Controller Dr. Garfield now states that this drastic action has resulted in people in the east receiving coal in larger quantities than they have been for weeks past, and trans-Atlantic shipping is also being greatly relieved.

Canning Chicken to Conserve Meats

This year more poultry than usual is finding its way to market in a thin, unfinished condition. There is very little sale for this grade of chickens and their presence in so many shipments has great deal to do with the comparatively low price returned, at times, to producers. Cull chickens, if held, frequently prove more of a liability than an asset to producers. The best place for them is in a can or a jar made ready for table use. Later in the season when good chickens are scarce and high in price, poultry thus prepared may be utilized and served in many appetizing ways.

The following methods of canning poultry are being advocated by Government Institutions in the United States:

Method 1.—Dress the chicken separating it into sections or leaving it whole as preferred. Season and fry as for serving. When the meat is three-fourths done remove from the fire and pack the pieces into a clean, hot glass jar. If the chicken is whole break the neck and legs, roll the chicken up into a small roll, tie with string or fasten with toothpicks. A quart jar should hold two or more small chickens. Pour over the chicken the hot liquid from the frying pan, if necessary adding hot water to fill the jar completely. Adjust the rubber and top, leaving the latter slightly loose. Place in a waterbath canner and sterilize from 90 to 120 minutes, depending upon the size of the chicken. Remove and tighten the covers immediately.

Method 2.—Dress the chicken, and leave whole or cut into pieces as preferred. Cover with boiling water and simmer until the meat can be separated from the bones. Return the bones to the liquid, and boil it down one-half. Pack the meat closely in hot glass jars, add one level teaspoonful salt to each quart, and fill the jar with the hot liquid. Adjust the rubber and top, leaving the latter slightly loose. Sterilize three to three and one-half hours in a waterbath canner. Remove and tighten the tops immediately. The liquor remaining may be placed in a jar, sterilized 90 minutes and kept for soup or gravy. Two pounds of dressed fowl should make one pint of solid meat, and a pint of thick stock.

Method 3.—Cut the dressed, raw chicken into convenient sections. Pack into glass jars, add one teaspoonful salt to a quart, fill the jar with boiling water, adjust the rubber and top as above, and sterilize in a waterbath canner three and one-half to four hours.

Method 1 given above is for small, frying sized chickens. Method 2 and 3 may be used for chickens of any size.
